OUR STORY

Dear Seagulls,

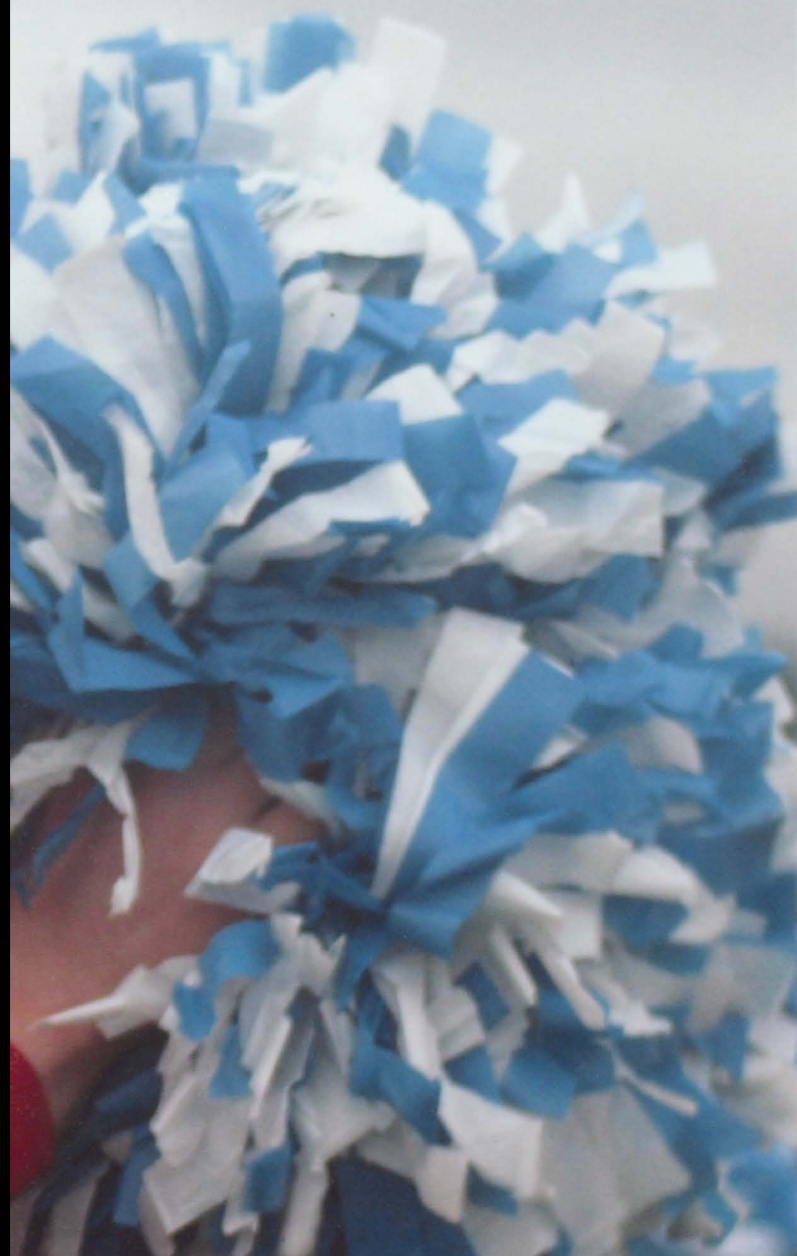

One of the only things we can count on in life is change. As Summer slips in September, we all experience the change of leaving our summer adventures behind, and returning to school. With that in mind, we Yearbookers decided that it was time for a change in how we present our "love letter" to Seaside High School. This is the story of SHS, this is OUR story...what side? You know the answer, and if you don't, turn the page to discover what side we are all on. Out with the old and in with the new.

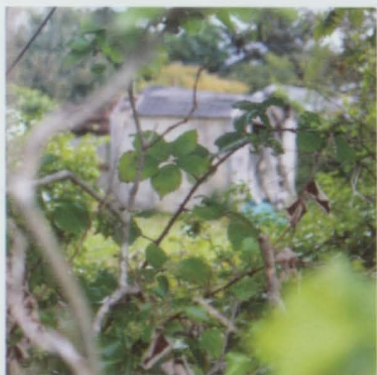

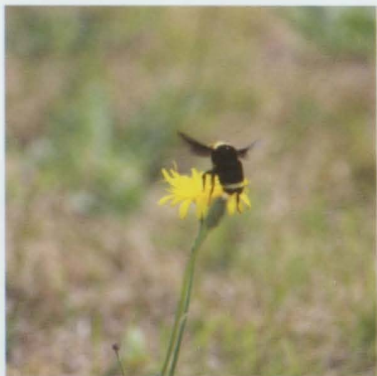

Enjoy!

Stop and Smell The Roses

School can feel like a boring place where the days seem to endlessly drag on at times, but believe it when you hear people say "it goes by in the blink of an eye." Before you know it you'll be taking your last steps down the halls of SHS, but Seaside High School is not just halls or classes; it's a community of people, and one of them is you, so make the most of it while you're here. Take risks, make friends, and live your life. It's often hard to appreciate the little things going on around us with school, friends, and the latest gossip, but try your best to stop and smell the roses; look around and think long and hard about the moments you want to remember, because what most of us fail to realize is that these ARE the "good old days," so be grateful for the people around you, and always remember: no matter what side you're on, whether it be left sides or right side, good sides or bad sides, you'll always be a part of SEASide!

LINK TOGETHER

In August, students gather to help put on "Link Day," which is the first day of school for all incoming freshmen. Students help to show leadership by welcoming the class of 2023 with big hugs, fun icebreaker games, and much more. Showing the freshmen that they can feel connected and excited about their big transition from a Shark to a Gull.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

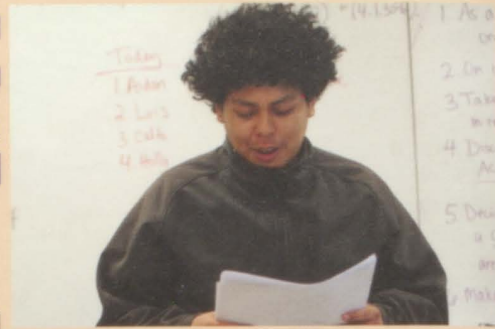

Q&A: Daniel Hay

Q: Why did you sign up for Public Speaking?

A: "I wanted to become better at speaking publicly, and figured taking Mrs. Baertlein's class would be a great opportunity for that."

Q: What was your favorite speech to present?

A: "Without a doubt, my favorite speech was definitely the sales speech. It was a lot of fun to come and promote a product that was entirely made up."

SEPTEMBER TO REMEMBER

Ila Bowles(10)

Hayden McCann(10)

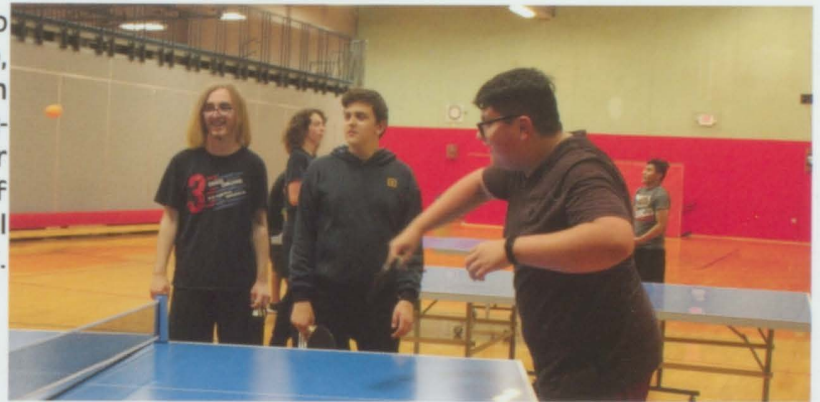

The Sophmore Biology A classes taught by Ms. Kruger study different plants and animal tissues and cells under a microscope.

The term begins with the students learning about different molecules, the different organisms that contributed to the creation of life and how life formed from such simple molecules. As the term goes on they get into more complex subjects such as cells and what is in a cell.

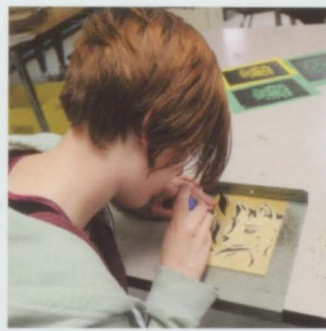

Math is not often an easy subject for some, but it's easier when you have help. In the photo to the left, we have freshman Carson Taylor and Sophomore Linnea Hagman hard at work in math class.

Students are hard at work to start the year off. In the photo, we have Sophomores Adrian Dzul-Fisher, Micheal Flaigg-Fairless, and freshman Sawyer Corkill participating in a game of ping - pong in Non-Traditional Sports taught by Mr. Januik.

"My project was a portrait of a face outline. I chose this design because it seemed easy and I felt like doing it. The hardest part was having to fix it up so it printed better." Joslyn Roberts(9)

"My project was inspired by my favorite animal, which is a wolf. I always love looking at beautiful paintings of wolves. The project was mostly easy; however, I was told that the art was not supposed to be watercolor." Lia Hansen(9)

"My favorite project so far had been a bowl that is leveled and looks like a rock but still functions. My hardest project is in process. It is a mushroom covered cup. In the future I possibly want to make a plant dish with a bottom that is not connected." Audriauna Hutt(9)

"My favorite clay project I made was either a clay rose or a clay coil heart. I think the hardest project that I have done was either a octopus or a whistle. In the future I would like to make a 3D pumpkin or a cobra snake." Nathaniel Ryan(12)

Every day of Homecoming week was filled with fun games, dress up days, and more! Monday was the usual tacky tourist day, where each class competed in a very intense game of giant Jenga. Tuesday was jersey day, an exciting game of basketball was played by members from each class. Wednesday was western day, where the tradition of meatball entertained all. Thursday was teacher twin day, representatives from each class participated in a blind obstacle course. Finally, Friday was the usual spirit out, and the highly anticipated competition of airband! The Homecoming game was on Friday against Valley Catholic, with a winning score of 24-6.

BATTLE OF THE CLASSES

Every year each class preforms a Airband performance for the school and guests. Theses classes have been preparing for the show since late in August and a little into September. When the big day comes along, a lot are excited and nervous. Every grade comes up with their own theme and surrounds their music and dancing around their theme. This year the senior class theme was Link Crew from Freshman year. The Junior theme was 2000-2010's. Sophomore theme was Road Trip. Freshmen theme was Through the Decades.

UNITED WE STAND

Being a small town, the people of Seaside learn to come together in communal events like the annual lighting of the town Christmas tree, or friday night lights. Our unified community is brought together by its youth. This year, Seaside High School celebrated unity day. Students gathered to hear Sgt. Schermerhorn speak about treating each other kindly, acting upon bullying, and being unified as a community. Put together by ASB officers, students wore orange on October 21st to represent coming together, and to show off the great pride of Seaside! The morning of the 21st students gathered outside in all of their orange gear to take a group photo with their new shirts sponsored by Freedom. It was a very successful way to bring new traditions to SHS, and help support the unified community of Seaside.

NOVEMBER

LAUGH OUT LOUD!

High School is stressful and boring for the most part, it's important to do things that make you happy. Things that make you smile and laugh. Things that you and your friends can look back on and say, "That was funny", because without laughing the world would be a dull, barron place full of dull and barron people. Have some fun with your High School experience, and maybe if you're lucky you'll make someones day a little brighter. A good laugh or funny conversation can make anyones day. Which is exactly what we are doing here on this page, so take a look at some of the funniest photos in this years yearbook!

Hundreds of kids from all over the county compete for ribbons, trophies, medals, and fun experiences. MAKSYM MATVIYENKO UKRAINE--->USA

Q&A

Q: What were you expecting when you decided to travel abroad?

A: "I was so excited to go to the US. Mentors from my program prepared me for everything that could happen, for good and bad. But fortunately, I haven't faced anything bad that I was prepared for."

Q: Were there any stereotypes that were proved true or false?

A: "Some exchange student stereotypes were: 'Oh you have a sick accent, I like it.' Also questions about my country like 'Is it communist? Or part of Russia?' And I think that people asked me to talk in my language."

Q: What is an example of slang you learned here?

A: "Sick, dope, dillin, score, ditch, cheezy. There were more, but that's all I could remember."

Q: What will you miss most about the US?

A: "I will miss my host family, my new friends that I met here, and the whole community. I will also miss mexican food, and the view of woods and mountains."

FERNANDO DZUL FISHER USA--->GERMANY

Q&A

Q: What were you expecting when you decided to travel abroad?

A: "I was unsure about what to expect. I was aware that the German culture was more reserved; however, I tried my best not to bear any expectations that might affect my experience."

Q: Were there any stereotypes that were proved true or false?

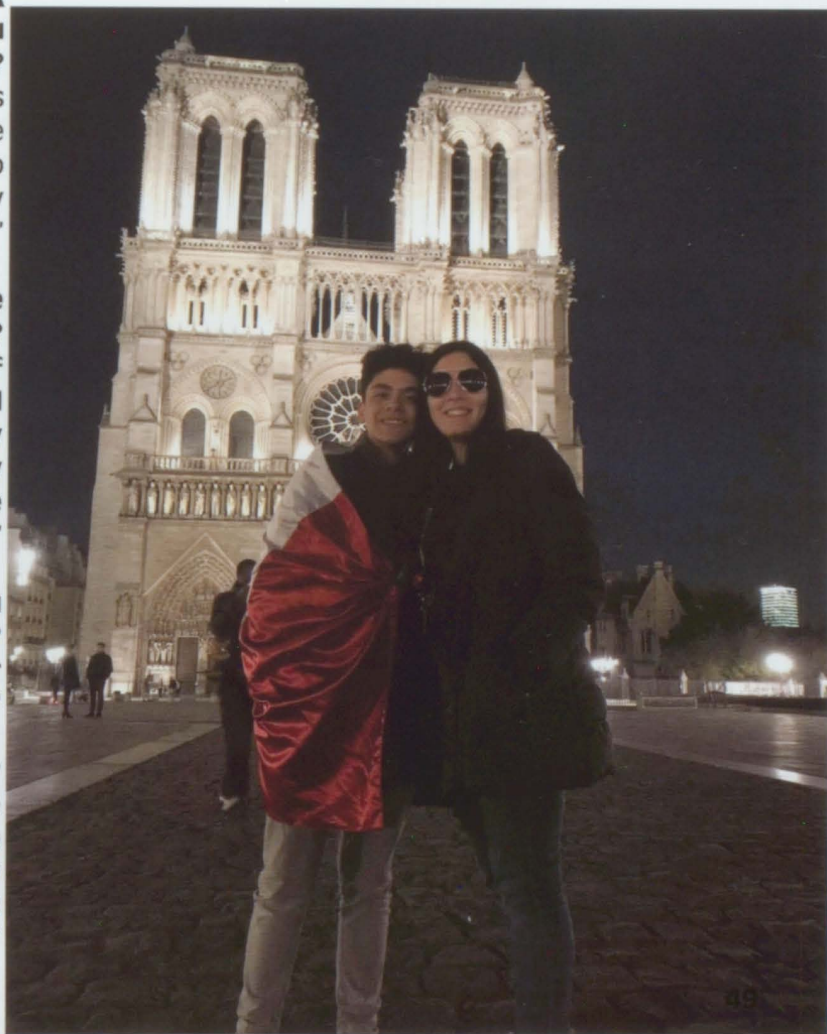

A: "The German's do indeed eat a lot of sausage and they do enjoy drinking beer. I learned, however, that Germans can be very open minded and welcoming to others. They were not nearly as reserved as my culture shock books made them out to be."

Q: What is an example of slang you learned there?

A: "Teens in Germany have many terms for 'dude' or 'man' such as 'junge' and 'Alte'."

Q: What do you miss most about Germany?

A: "I miss my friends primarily. I also miss the proximity of everything and the accessibility. Every town or city in Germany is within reach through an efficient public transportation system."

DECK THE HALLS

Holiday festivities poured throughout the halls during winter week at SHS! Students decorated hallways and each grade put up christmas trees in the cafeteria. But the festivities don't stop at decorations; choir and ASB caroled around the halls to classes, there was karaoke at lunch, and students participated in dress up days every day of the week. The festive week ended with the Holiday Classic basketball tournament that takes place every year at Seaside, in which the varsity boys basketball won first place!

Whether you're a lover of music or food, there's something for everyone in the arts. Jazz band or clay arts? Cooking or theater? chances are there is something you'll love, and getting involved is a great way to make friends, discover passions, and create lifelong memories. As anyone will tell you; its important to get involved with things you enjoy. If you're considering the arts ask around for suggestions, you'll find there are so many different options, or if you know someone who isn't involved in the arts, encourage them to try something new. After all; you could even find you have a soft spot for something you wouldn't expect. Most importantly you'll never know if you don't try. Seaside High School is home to many fantastic arts programs; like theater, choir, band, a wide variety of art classes, and much more.

Traveling to Kenya, Africa, Freshmen Sarah Brown has an experience like no other. "Going on a 26 hour flight from the U.S. to Africa, we were going to stay for fifteen days. In that time we went on a trip through Nairobi National Park that lasted all day. I saw hippos, lions with their cubs, crocodiles, and tons of baboons everywhere. There was a big city that was civilized just like America, and there were villages which were really different. The variety of food was extremely different. They had foods like kale, tortillas, ugali, meats, and animal intestines. The people were kind and giving. If there was something that I learned in Africa, it was that I take things for granted when others don't have a lot."

Sarah Brown

Calib White is a Junior here at Seaside High School, and he is known for his "out of the box" thinking. Although many may not know Calib, he is very wise, and always has kind words of wisdom. "School is like life. There are ups and downs, love and hate, fair and unfair. But it teaches us more than math or science, it also teaches us that life will not always be great, but we can still go on. It also encourages you to meet new people and bond, to motivate you and surround yourself with others."

Calib White

"For a future career, I find writing and acting to be the best options for me. We improvise and act all day long, writing our own stories as we go along. Plus, if I were to get in the right business, writing and/or acting can pay fairly well."

CULINARY

This year, the SHS Pro Culinary Class proudly placed third in the 2020 culinary competition! There were eight other schools competing.

The competition was held at the Salem Convention Center. The team had one hour to cook three courses.

There were three mentors this year to help prepare the students: Chef Holen from Baked Alaska in Astoria, Chef Newman from Newmans 988 in Cannon Beach, and last, but not least, Chef Gunn from Pacific Way Cafe in Gearhart.

Audrey O'Donell(11):
"Culinary has inspired me to make more food and be more creative when it comes to making things for myself and other people. It has to be one of the bigger inspirations I have had in school. Overall, the experiences we have together and the food we make is amazing, we are basically a culinary family."

John Messenger(12):
"This class has broadened my horizon and made me start looking into colleges for cooking and trying to find things that will help me expand my knowledge of cooking."

Jacie Gregory(12):
"My favorite part of Culinary is working with my team members. We don't have a specific captain so we can all help each other out. We live by the phrase "Teamwork Makes The Dream Work."

The Gay Straight Alliance, or GSA, club is an all inclusive place for gender and sexuality alliance, discussing gender identity and/or sexual orientation. It is a place made for people to be able to be themselves without the fear of judgment.

Starting out, the GSA club had about three people, but now about 20 people regularly attend the meetings.

Their main goal is to have the trust of students and create a place of privacy where you can feel comfortable enough to talk about you and your experiences.

Most of the students in the club are very close. The group could even be considered a second family to some.

GSA is a community that strives to understand each and every student that needs it.

"GSA is a safe space for anyone to come. We will welcome all students, regardless of their sexuality or gender. High school can be a tough place and it's important to have a community that welcomes everyone." -GSA Adviser Susan Baertlen

KEY CLUB

Key Club at Seaside High School represents care, and makes a positive impact in not only Seaside, but the whole world. The Key Club motto is "Caring- Our Way of Life" and they certainly do that by volunteering around the community and raising money for good causes. Key Club does volunteer work through Kiwanis, an international service club with the motto of "Serving the Children of the World." Seaside's Key Club, along with Astoria, Knappa, Tillimook, and Wahkiakum is division 42c, with the mascot of an orca.

Besides 4H, work, school, and a social life, senior Randy Dundas also does drag racing; a type of motor racing where automobiles or motorcycles compete to be the first to cross the finish line. "I do drag racing because I love testing the limits of a car that I built." Randy has been racing since he was thirteen, "I am obsessed with cars and I wanted to know more." But it's not just the obsession with cars that fuels his love for drag racing, "The best part about racing is the people and friends you get to meet at the track." Along with his parents, family members, and close friends that pursued Randy to do drag racing.

"My favorite memory was my second race ever. I was unloading the car from the trailer when I cut the wheel too hard and caught the cable of the trailer door in the bumper of the car. My mentor was very angry by this and told me the only way to make it up to him was to win this race, and I did."

For an extra curricular activity, sophomore Ryan Smith does curling. In this nontraditional sport, the players slide stones on a sheet of ice, and aim for a targeted area called the "house." One team has four players; a lead, second, vice-skip, and skip. "Lead throws rock 1 and 2 and then will sweep the positions second, vice, and skip stones. Second throws rock 3 and 4 and sweeps the lead, vice, and skip stone. Vice throws rock 5 and 6 and sweeps lead, second will then call the shots for the skip. The skip position calls the shots for lead, second, and vice once the captain throws rock 7 and 8." Said Smith.

"My favorite memory is going to Reno with the team in January to compete in a tournament. The team is made up of mostly kids from Portland who have done it for awhile, we are all from different backgrounds and get along great."

ADVICE FROM

Do you have any advice for the incoming freshman?

Alexander Campuzano-Luna: "Stay on top of your work so your junior and senior year can be stress free and fun. Also, surround yourself with good friends even if that means not having a lot because those friends are the ones that will be there no matter what".

Julio Ortiz: "Try in every class from the start so that your GPA is good at the end of your senior year".

If you could tell your freshman self one thing, what would it be?

Derek Stewart: "I'm sure Mr. Hawes would love this answer... I would tell myself to do my damn work!"

Cristina Millan: "To step out of my comfort zone more. By joining clubs, meeting/making new friends and just being more involved in school. whether it's participating more in class discussions or just getting up to present in front of the whole class. In the end, those experiences will prepare you for the real world. You'll eventually look back and be grateful".

SENIORS TO FRESHMAN

What do you regret not doing your freshman year?

Xcaret Bello: "I definitely regret not trying out for more clubs and sports! Freshman year is truly a great time to try many things that way you know what you want to enjoy and don't early on".

Anna Peon: "I regret not letting my actual charms loose. I have a tomboy personality and like to play rough and love adventure, but then I also can be a shy girl who likes to be playful and do girly things".

Was high school really as hard as everyone says it is?

Angela Reyes: "No, just focus on your stuff and don't procrastinate... which everyone is going to do... but just don't do it".

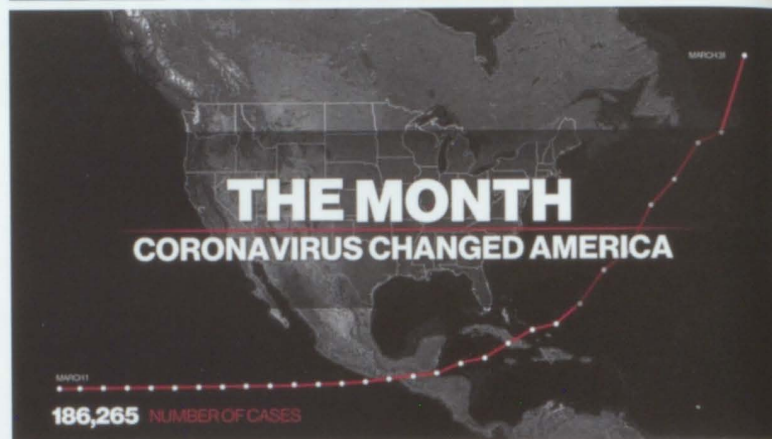

Laura Oros: "I believe senior year is not as hard as people say it is. It should be your most laid back since you're pretty much done with all your classes except some core classes which isn't too bad. Now, the only hard part you could say about senior year is scholarships and college applications".

VIRUS

CORONA

Due to the Covid-19 outbreak across the globe, spring term was cut short. On March 13th, 2020, students unknowingly had their last day of school for the 19-20 school year. The Coronavirus started out as a minor concern, and ended up being a global pandemic. School was canceled for two weeks up until the end of March, schools were set to start back up again on April 1st, 2020. But due to the spread of the virus, Oregon's Governor shut down the schools until April 30th, and students could all continue school online. But mid April, the news came that schools were closed for the rest of the year, sports were canceled, and big events like graduation, and prom were canceled for the time being. As of May 2020, graduation is to be held in the parking lot. One thing that this quarantine has given us, is time with family, and time to appreciate what we all took for granted. As the 2020-21 school year approaches, students are more than ready to leave their houses, and start a new journey in the new school, and the 2020 graduates are more than ready to begin their lives as adults.

What are your plans for the long springbreak?

"I'm going to sleep and play PS4"

Matthew Haner(10)

I am young. Can I continue to socialize?

Sources say please don't. There is no question that older people and those with underlying health conditions are most vulnerable to the virus, but young people are by no means immune. And there is a greater public imperative. Even people who show only mild symptoms may pass the virus to many, many others

"Between 160 million and 214 million people in the United States could be infected over the course of the epidemic, according to one projection. That could last months or even over a year, with infections concentrated in shorter periods, staggered across time in different communities, experts said. As many as 200,000 to 1.7 million people could die."

WORLDWIDE IMPACT

COVID-19

WHAT IS SOCIAL DISTANCING?

THE CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL asked everyone to take intentional actions to avoid passing the coronavirus from person to person. Anyone who didn't feel well was asked to stay home. In day-to-day life, social distancing meant staying away from places people gather and staying at least six feet from other people. That meant no eating in restaurants, no movies or plays and no attending sports events. For younger kids, it meant no playgrounds, playdates or sleepovers. For adults, it meant no trips to the gym, salons or restaurants. The CDC also advised that people cancel all non-essential appointments, including surgeries or medical procedures that weren't critical.

SEVERE MEASURES

STATES WITH HIGH LEVELS of positive COVID-19 tests began issuing shelter-in-place orders. Residents were only allowed to leave their homes for essential tasks such as getting food or seeking medical help.

» HOW WE DEALT WITH THE SPREAD OF CORONAVIRUS

First steps

- Limited travel out of the country was a first step.
- Experts suggested self-quarantining for those who had recently traveled or were feeling sick.
- New cruise travel was canceled and passengers returning from foreign cruises were quarantined.

» HOW COMPANIES HELPED

- Many companies that offer online learning resources and services, started allowing teachers to use their resources at no charge.
- Adobe began making its Creative Cloud software available for students to use at no charge.
- Burger King started giving away free kids meals to help make up for children who are not being fed because they are not in school.

- U-Haul offered 30 days of free storage for college students who had to move out of their dorms with little notice.
- Many grocery stores began providing senior-only shopping hours so that older citizens could shop with less chance of being exposed to the virus.
- Big box stores, such as Walmart, adjusted store hours so employees could properly clean and sanitize the store and restock the shelves.

- Cosmetics and liquor companies both have alcohol on hand, and some opted to make hand sanitizer at their facilities.
- Companies, such as Apple and Facebook, that had extra masks left over from the California wildfires donated them to hospitals.

SOCIAL DISTANCE WASH HANDS CLEAN SURFACES

Next steps

- Schools closed with varying reports of trying to resume later in the spring. Students began online learning.
- People who could, began working from home and managing their homebound students.
- All sports — from Little League to professional — and entertainment including Broadway and television shows with a live audience, suspended operation.
- States limited gatherings — first large gatherings, such as conferences, and then even small gatherings of 10 or more people. This effectively closed restaurants causing many to convert to take-out only.

TOILET PAPER HOARDING

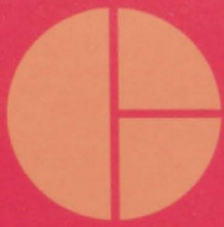

AS FEARS ROSE over the idea of shelter-in-place orders and quarantine, toilet paper became scarce as consumers decided to clear shelves of TP, hand sanitizer and cleaning supplies. Retailers resorted to limiting the number of packs that could be purchased at one time. We weren't alone. According to CNN, stores in Australia hired security guards to keep the peace in the TP aisles.

TP by the numbers:

- About 90 percent of the TP sold in the U.S. is also made in the U.S.
- The average person uses about 100 rolls each year.
- Approximately 75 percent of the world's population doesn't use TP.
- They do use TP on the International Space Station.
- Normal daily production is more than 83 million rolls per day.
- In the U.S., packaged TP first became available in 1957.
- One company advertised splinter-free TP in 1935.
